Job Hedges, the cleverest talker in the Republican ranks in this State, will be Mr. Taft's chief assistant in to-day's tour. Gov. Hughes will campaign with him in New York to-morrow, preceding or following him by a few minutes at each meeting.

Mr. Taft's vocal organs appeared to be practically useless when he left the practically useless when he left the city this morning, but the members o his party declared that he would be in his party declared that he would be a good shape after making a couple of speeches. He manifested no alarm over the prospect of a gruelling day in the raw, misty air of the Hudson Valley.

Waiting in the Rain.

Walling in the Kain.

Mr. Taft was met at Yonkers by an escort of 500 Republicans, who marched ahead of his automobile from the rail road station to Music Hall in Wharburton avenue. Although a light rain walfalling, there were crowds in the streets and the Republican candidate was accorded every bit as enthusiastic a reception as that which greeted Mr. Bryan execution, under similar weather con the state of the state Music Hall holds 3,000 people and it was jamined. A crowd of 5,000 stood outside in the rain. Mr. Taft talked to the crowd inside and the crowd outside, confining his remarks to the attitude of the Republican party toward the trusts and union labor. He declared that the Republican party was the laboring man's friend. At this, as well as at eleven subsequent meetings, Mr. Taft spoke warmly of his admiration for Goy, Hughes.
